Announcing the 2025 Script Happens Line-Up!

SAINT JOHN – The 2025 Script Happens selections have been revealed, promising an evening filled with original storytelling and local talent. This regular playwriting event brings fresh voices from New Brunswick to the stage, highlighting the work of emerging playwrights, directors, and actors.

This year's chosen one-act plays are:

The Guilt That Follows written by Dino Andriani

The Two Hour Bride written by Stacey Richards

Paul Frown Really Goes for It written by Ryan Griffith

Audiences can experience these original plays live at the BMO Studio Theatre from June 4-7, 2025. Tickets will be available starting April 7.

Script Happens, an initiative of the Saint John Theatre Company, is dedicated to supporting and showcasing the development of local theatre talent. This program offers opportunities for unproduced scripts to be developed into fully staged productions, creating a platform for creativity and collaboration.

Support for Script Happens 2025 has been provided by BMO Financial, James Venner Russell Foundation, the Pannell Family Foundation and Canadian Heritage.
